Arabs, Israelis Continue To Trade Blows In Mideast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dozens of Egyptian troops crossed the Suez Canal Sunday night but Israeli forces repulsed them, killing at least three, an Israeli army spokesman said today.

The attack came at about the same time as Israeli commandos crossed into Jordan south of the sea of Galilee and attacked
Jordanian artillery positions.

They blew up a section of the East Ghor irrigation canal which was largely financed by American money. Sources said the raid was intended to serve "as still another warning" to the Jordanian army to "cool off" military activity.

A spokesman said the rupture of the Ghor Canal was meant "to show them what we can do if they keep it up."

The Israelis said that the canal battle with the Egyptians was the biggest in many months. The Egyptian force crossed five miles south of Qantara on the northern section of the canal after a heavy artillery and mortar bombardment, spokesmen reported.

They said the Israeli troops returned the fire, engaged the commandos and pushed them back across the canal.

The Egyptians left three dead on the Israeli side. The army spokesman said one Israeli soldier was wounded.

An Egyptian communique in Cairo today said their forces killed 18 Israelis in the raid.

The Israelis' Sunday raid in Jordan came after warplanes made three attacks in the same area.

It was one of the few commando attacks directed at a regular Jordanian army unit.
Most other attacks have been aimed at Arab guerrilla bases.

The Israeli army said the area was used as a sabotage base as well as an artillery emplacement. It accused the Arab inhabitants and the army of cooperating with the saboteurs.
All the Israeli commandos returned safely to base, the army said.

Jordanian authorities said one person was killed and five persons wounded in the air attacks.
There was no report on casualties in the commando attack.

The new fighting came as Cairo newspapers said high-level officials from Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon were holding meetings on "important developments expected in the near future."

Judge Burger Takes Oath As 15th U.S. Chief Justice

CHIEF JUSTICE — Judgelike indeed is the mien of Warren
Earl Burger, 61, the new chief justice of the United States Supreme Court. The St. Paul, Minn., native has been a judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warren Earl Burger was sworn in at 10:42 a.m. today to be the 15th chief justice of the United States.

The simple and sedate ceremony marked the retirement of Earl Warren after 16 years as chief justice and 52 years in public service.

President Nixon, in an unprecedented action, spoke to the high court, and said of Warren:
"The nation is grateful for that service."

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Burger stood behind the bench and in a firm, clear voice swore to defend the Constitution and to administer justice faithfully and impartially, to do equal right to the poor and rich.

The 61-year-old veteran federal judge rested his hand on a Bible held by the outgoing chief justice.

They were flanked on both sides by the seven sitting associate justices.

Nixon is believed to be the first President in office to address the court. A lawyer, he spoke as a member of the court's bar.

The President said Warren's service as chief justice was especially characterized by three things—fairness, integrity and dignity.

Speaking of the court itself,
the President said: "No institution of our government has been more responsible for continuity with change."

Warren, replying to Nixon's remarks, thanked the President for what he said but spoke mostly for the court itself. His voice at the breaking point on occasion, the chief justice said of the court: "We serve only the public interest as we see it, guided by the Constitution and our own conscience."

Nixon's role in the transition ceremony, a brief speech, helps underline the contrast between the old and new chief justices.

Warren, an old political enemy of Nixon's, spent his 16 years as chief justice leading the court through its most activist and liberal periods. The 61-year-old Burger, on the other hand, spent the last 13 years as a little-known federal appeals judge building a legal reputation as a strict constitutional constructionist who advocated a hard approach to criminal law.

Although Nixon's political

Rocky Says Tour Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov.
Nelson A. Rockefeller says he is pleased with the results of his third fact-finding mission to Latin America and is eager to begin his fourth.

The New York governor landed Sunday night at Kennedy airport and boarded a helicopter for his North Tarrytown estate.

He had visited Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay as President Nixon's special envoy.

Rockefeller will conclude his mission next week with visits to Argentina, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Jamaica, Barbados and Guyana.

He had been scheduled to visit all Caribbean and South American nations except Cuba, but has indefinitely postponed trips to Venezuela, Peru and Chile at the request of their governments.

Rockefeller termed the latest leg of his mission "the turning point" in his tour. "We're over the hump," he said. "People are beginning to realize the real potential of this mission."

Youth Is Murdered; 139th In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —
A 17-year-old youth was killed last Sunday night on the East Side, pushing Cleveland's homicide total this year to 139.

Authorities said Albert Rivera was shot and his father badly beaten when they were attacked by a gang at East 81st Street and Hough Avenue. They said young Rivera had located his stolen car on East 81st Street and started to reclaim it when the attack occurred.

Janis In Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —
Martin Janis, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is expected to remain in University Hospital for the remainder of the week. Janis was hospitalized last week for tests of an infection.

When the slowdown ended
Friday morning, FAA investigators began quizzing every controller who reported sick, asking each to furnish a physician's statement. Flener said the interviewing was stopped Sunday but was to be resumed today.

"If this is continued today, we think the whole thing will blow up and aviation will come to a stop," the organization's vice chairman, James R. Ean, said in New York. He said he feared an "emotional and spontaneous" reaction by controllers in key cities, even though organization officials were urging members to "cool it."

In Boston F. Lee Bailey, counsel for the controllers, echoed the prediction. "If it happens again Monday these men will walk out," he said. "They all have lawyers and if the investigators want to talk with them,
we are available."

Flener said the goal of the investigation is "to find out the nature of the so-called spontaneous illness." The next step, he said, will be up to Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe and FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer.

Shaffer, he said, ordered the investigation.
The controllers are forbidden by law to strike, and the FAA threatened disciplinary action if

Viet Reds Besiege Green Berets

SAIGON (AP) —North Vietnamese forces attacked a besieged American Special Forces camp and two of its outposts in the central highlands today.
Spokesmen said the camp was surrounded and cut off by an estimated 2,000 enemy and under daily bombardment by heavy artillery.

About 30 mortar and recoilless rifle rounds slammed into the Ben Het Special Forces camp 280 miles northeast of Saigon, spokesmen said, killing one American and wounding five members of a U.S. artillery position there.

North Vietnamese troops also attacked two government outposts near Ben Het before dawn only 8 hours after U.S. B52 bombers dropped 360 tons of explosives on the enemy formations massed around the camp.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 34 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed while government casualties were one civilian irregular killed and 11 wounded.

Earlier Sunday night, Ben Het came under a 70-round artillery barrage that caused light casualties among South Vietnamese civilian irregulars and wounded seven of their dependents.

Military spokesmen said the camp has been under siege for two months, and U.S. air and artillery strikes and ground

probes have failed to break it.
Ben Het is manned by the American artillery battery, a small team of Green Beret advisers and South Vietnamese units.

U.S. headquarters said the North Vietnamese 28th Regiment has deployed up to 2,000 troops around Ben Het in deeply dug fortifications, difficult to knock out with air strikes and artillery.

The North Vietnamese 40th Artillery Regiment also is reported to have moved into the area with big guns zeroed in on the camp from Laos, Cambodia, and the intervening six-mile stretch from Ben Het to the border.

Because of the fierce artillery bombardment—100 rounds hit the camp Saturday—supplies are dropped in by Air Force cargo planes and helicopters fly in only to lift out the wounded, headquarters said.

Attempts to push an armored column through route 579 from Dak To to open a land route to the beleaguered camp have failed, according to military spokesmen. South Vietnamese patrols venturing beyond two miles of the camp perimeter have been hit hard.

Elsewhere across South Vietnam, ground action tapered off sharply with only scattered clashes reported over the weekend.

Damage Heavy; Kansas Areas Also Ravaged

OLD MINES, Mo. (AP) — Tornadoes left five persons dead and more than 30 injured in the Missouri lead mining belt southwest of St. Louis Sunday night.

At Old Mines, one twister destroyed nearly a dozen homes.
Roy Pratt, a 45-year-old strip mine employee, and his 8-year-old son Francis were killed.

Seven other members of the Pratt family were injured when they were trapped in their frame dwelling, which collapsed.

Two elderly brothers, Jacob and Herman Herbst, died when another twister tore into their home near Farmington about 22 miles southeast of Old Mines.

The fifth victim, a Carbondale, Ill., motorist, was killed when a tornado lifted his car from U.S. 67 near Farmington and slammed it into a rock bluff. Farmington Community Hospital withheld his identity.

"We heard this awful roar, just like a railroad train," said a neighbor of Pratt, Clyde Boyer. "It took the doors right off the storm cellar and my wife and my boy and I crouched down on the floor until it passed."

Most roads in the area were blocked by fallen trees.

The twisters downed power lines and telephone wires and an electrical storm made two-way radio contact nearly impossible in the stricken area for hours, leaving a virtual communications blackout.

Hospitals at Farmington, Ironton and Potosi, reported treating about 35 persons, most of them for minor injuries.

A spokesman for the weather bureau in St. Louis said the tornadoes were spawned by "typical summer storms."

Late Saturday night and early Sunday another batch of tornadoes struck in central Kansas, injuring about 100 persons

Flash Floods Hit Tennessee

RED BOILING SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP) — Flash floods roared through this little Middle Tennessee resort village this morning. Hours later, the town was virtually underwater.

Police said they had had reports of some missing persons, although no fatalities were confirmed. Several homes here and in Macon County were swept away by the swift waters.

The flooding also extended into adjoining Allen County, Kentucky, toppling trees and disrupting telephone and electrical service. Trammel Creek, fed by the high waters from Red Boiling Springs, spilled over its banks in southern Allen County and created hazardous conditions around Adolphus and Mount Union in Kentucky.

But most of the damage was in Red Boiling Springs, a town of 900.

Ten miles to the north, near Scottsville, Ky., eight inches of rain was reported in six hours.
Nashville, 65 miles to the southwest, had 1.1 inches in 45 minutes.

SDS Splits Into Factions

Convention Ends With 2 Parties

CHICAGO (AP) — Students for a Democratic Society, the radical group prominent in recent campus uprisings, ended its national convention today sharply split, with its so-called regular faction electing Mark
Rudd, leader of 1968 Columbia University disorders, national secretary.

The other faction of SDS, headed by the Progressive La-different slate of officers.

Both groups ended their conventions at different locations, both called separate news conferences for today to announce names of officers, and both claimed to be "the real SDS."

The PL faction ended its meeting in the Coliseum convention hall on the South Side, where SDS started its convention as a single group Wednesday.

Elected officers by the PL were John Pennington, national secretary; Alan Spector, educational secretary, and Mrs. Pat Forman, interorganizational
secretary.

Fred Gordon, educational secretary for the last year, gaveled the PL faction's convention to a close in the Coliseum.

Besides Rudd, the SDS regulars elected as officers Jeffrey
Jones of San Francisco, interor-

just south of here.

Police said Robert Poline, 18, of Massillon drowned along with Rickie Anderson, 13, and West Baltimore. Police said

Poline was visiting the Anderson boy.

The police said two homemade rafts the boys were using capsized when one of the youths attempted to jump from one to the other. Firemen recovered the three bodies.

Bloodmobile Visit Slated Here Thursday

Officials of the Pickaway County Red Cross Bloodmobile Program today issued a reminder that the next bloodmobile visit to Circleville will be this Thursday.

The success of the last visit leaves Pickaway County standing at 94 per cent of the assigned donor quota. Continued full coverage and benefits under the program can be assured by a good turnout of donors at this visit.

Red Cross officials warned that during the summer months an increase in injuries and accidents from outdoor activities can be expected, especially among children. This puts a heavier demand on blood bank reserves. They also stressed that with vacations progress it is important that all eligible donors plan to participate due to the absence of some donors from the community.

At least 125 donors are needed to maintain the present percentage of quota. More donors are desirable, as this would improve the county's standing in the program.

The hours of the visit will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church.

Members of the bloodmobile committee are Jack Mader, Jerry Leist and Don Repp.

Pope Paul Raps Personal Critics

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI declared today there is "a diffused lack of confidence" in his administration of the Roman Catholic Church. He said this is "one of the difficulties which masks great dangers for the Church."
The 71-year-old pontiff, in a wide-ranging speech covering Church affairs, war and the search for peace, defended himself, the Roman Curia and Catholic bishops throughout the world against critics of their policies.
In a 5,400-word address to mark the sixth anniversary of his election to head the half-billion member Church, Pope Paul also repeated his sorrow at continuing bloodshed in Vietnam, Nigeria and the Middle East. He voiced again his hopes for true world peace.

Janis In Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Martin Janis, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is expected to remain in University Hospital for the remainder of the week. Janis was hospitalized last week for tests of an infection.
The Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization has warned it will not tolerate further government investigation of last week's slowdown, raising the possibility of a new—and possibly worse—air transportation crisis.
But the director of the Federal Aviation Administration's Air Traffic Service, William J. Flenner, said the probe would continue.

Judy Garland Is Found Dead At London Home

LONDON (AP) — "Audiences have kept me alive," Judy Garland once said. But a London surgeon says the star was "living on borrowed time," and time ran out Sunday for the 47-year-old singing star.
Miss Garland, who made more than 35 films but was best known for her role as a little girl named Dorothy in "The Wizard of Oz," was found dead by her fifth husband, Mickey Deans, in the bathroom of her London home.

British newspapers labeled the death "sudden and mysterious" but Scotland Yard ruled out suicide and police said there was no suspicion of foul play. An autopsy was scheduled today.

GIs Angry At 'Pullout' Of Battalion

DONG TAM, South Vietnam (AP) — The first American infantry battalion scheduled to be withdrawn from Vietnam is going home in name only, and the men are angry and bitter.
"They are just kidding the public," said 1st Lt. Paul Caputo of Brooklyn, N.Y. "Telling folks the 3rd Battalion is going home when in fact only the colors and standards are going home."
Under President Nixon's withdrawal order, the 3rd Battalion 60th Infantry of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division is scheduled to fly to the United States July 8 for demobilization. But it will actually be a composite battalion of 900 men.

Men with a few months left to serve in Vietnam will be transferred to other units. Their places on the trip home will be filled by soldiers from other battalions who have completed or almost completed their 12-month tours.
"We don't feel good about people going home with our patches on their uniforms," said Spec. 4 Jerry Valcanta of Long Island, N.Y.

Fulbright Slates Vietnam Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Foreign Relations Committee will hold new hearings to re-evaluate America's policy in Vietnam, Chairman J.W. Fulbright says.
The Arkansas Democrat said Sunday that President Nixon's Midway meeting with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, plus Nixon's speech at the U.S. Air Force Academy, "confirmed my fears he was not going to change the Johnson policy."
He didn't disclose a starting date for the hearings.

Ohio Assembly Reconvenes; Slate Loaded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About a dozen bills were up for votes as both houses of the 108th Ohio General Assembly reconvened today.
But most of the controversial business before the legislature during its 25th weekly session was at the committee level.

Before the House was one measure to extend to juveniles the same legal rights as adults in court, and another to place a 4 per cent tax on the gross receipts of airlines doing business in the state.

The Senate will consider a resolution to put before voters in November a constitutional amendment to permit the state to issue revenue bonds to construct low and moderate income housing in slum areas.

Meanwhile, two controversial measures, Sunday liquor sales and mandatory water fluoridation, come up for committee hearings this week.

The bill to permit Sunday liquor sales by local option, which squeaked through the House, gets its first Senate airing in the Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee Tuesday morning.

The Senate-approved bill of require statewide water fluoridation comes before the House Health and Welfare Committee Wednesday.

The House Ways and Means Committee is expected to receive amendments for a permissive income tax Tuesday morning and will meet Wednesday morning for further consideration of the bill.

The Senate Ways and Means Committee will hear nine bills Tuesday morning, including proposals to expand the horse racing season and create a housing development agency.

A series of 13 proposals, including four bills dealing with firearms control, will be heard by the House Judiciary Committee Wednesday morning.

2 Represent Ohio At Girls' Nation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jane Harrison of Wickliffe and Mary Lee Martello of Ashland will represent Ohio at Girls' Nation in Washington next month.
Their selection was announced Saturday during the closing session of Buckeye Girls' State on the Capital University campus. The 1,300 girls attending the American Legion sponsored government workshop returned to their homes Sunday.

Damage Heavy; Kansas Areas Also Ravaged

OLD MINES, Mo. (AP) — Tornadoes left five persons dead and more than 30 injured in the Missouri lead mining belt southwest of St. Louis Sunday night.
At Old Mines, one twister destroyed nearly a dozen homes. Roy Pratt, a 45-year-old strip mine employee, and his 8-year-old son Francis were killed.
Seven other members of the Pratt family were injured when they were trapped in their frame dwelling, which collapsed.

Two elderly brothers, Jacob and Herman Herbst, died when another twister tore into their home near Farmington about 22 miles southeast of Old Mines.

The fifth victim, a Carbon-dale, Ill., motorist, was killed when a tornado lifted his car from U.S. 67 near Farmington and slammed it into a rock bluff. Farmington Community Hospital withheld his identity.

"We heard this awful roar, just like a railroad train," said a neighbor of Pratt, Clyde Boyer. "It took the doors right off the storm cellar and my wife and my boy and I crouched down on the floor until it passed."

Most roads in the area were blocked by fallen trees.

The twisters downed power lines and telephone wires and an electrical storm made two-way radio contact nearly impossible in the stricken area for hours, leaving a virtual communications blackout.

Hospitals at Farmington, Ironton and Potosi, reported treating about 35 persons, most of them for minor injuries.

A spokesman for the weather bureau in St. Louis said the tornadoes were spawned by "typical summer storms."

Late Saturday night and early Sunday another batch of tornadoes struck in central Kansas, injuring about 100 persons (Continued on Page 2)

Flash Floods Hit Tennessee

RED BOILING SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP) — Flash floods roared through this little Middle Tennessee resort village this morning. Hours later, the town was virtually underwater.

Police said they had had reports of some missing persons, although no fatalities were confirmed. Several homes here and in Macon County were swept away by the swift waters.

The flooding also extended into adjoining Allen County, Kentucky, toppling trees and disrupting telephone and electrical service. Trammel Creek, fed by the high waters from Red Boiling Springs, spilled over its banks in southern Allen County and created hazardous conditions around Adolphus and Mount Union in Kentucky.

But most of the damage was in Red Boiling Springs, a town of 900.

Ten miles to the north, near Scottsville, Ky., eight inches of rain was reported in six hours. Nashville, 65 miles to the southwest, had 1.1 inches in 45 minutes.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio traffic accidents killed 20 people—11 of them children—over the weekend.

Five Ohioans died in traffic Friday night during the first six hours of the weekend period. They included two Ashtabula girls, Norma Foltz and Pamela Campbell, both 17, killed in a two-car crash near Ashtabula.

Local Youth To Tour UN

IOOF-Sponsored Trip Scheduled Friday

Stephen Seaburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Seaburn, Route 1, Williamsport, will leave for New York City Friday to take part in the 20th annual Odd Fellows' United Nations Pilgrimage for youth.

Seaburn, a student at Westfall High School, will be an observer at the United Nations Headquarters. He was chosen, after open competition with other high school teenagers, by Columbia Lodge 32, IOOF, Circleville.

He will travel by educational bus tour leaving Toledo Friday, together with other students and two adult counselors from Ohio.

Rodney Cassabon of Maumee is in charge of the trip which will visit Ontario and Niagara Falls on its way to New York City. The tour will return through Washington D.C.

While at UN headquarters, the student delegates will be briefed on the many serious problems existing between member nations, of progress in disarmament and the peaceful use of atomic energy, and of the ways in which problems of health, education, employment and industry in underdeveloped countries are being helped.

In addition, representatives of member nations will be interviewed, some with the aid of interpreters and Commissions and Committees will be seen in action. International House, where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof, will be visited, plus an evening at Radio City Music Hall, a boat trip around Manhattan Island as guests of New York Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

A valuable by-product of the Pilgrimage is the fellowship, which grows up among the 1,000 or more young delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada. The Pilgrimage is divided into seven groups, each of which will spend one week in New York during the Summer of 1969. Since this great project was instituted in 1950, 13,991 students have participated. The entire expense is absorbed by Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges. These informed serious teenagers, on their return home have become assets to their areas and great aid in the spread of knowledge and the furtherance of world peace.

collapses, illnesses, audiences that booed her and finished by yelling: "We love you Judy!" She reportedly attempted suicide several times. In the most publicized attempt, she slashed her throat at the age of 28.

But just when Miss Garland appeared washed up, she bounced back again. After she married Deans March 15, she told newsmen: "Finally, finally I am loved."

Born Frances Gumm on June 10, 1922, in Grand Rapids, Minn., she was the youngest of three daughters in a vaudeville team. It is said she made her first stage appearance in a Grand Rapids theater at the age of 30 months, singing "Jingle Bells," and that she was so thrilled by performing that her father had to pull her off the stage after she'd sung the number seven times.

A widely travelled child star from the age of 3, Miss Garland changed her name at the suggestion of George Jessel. Her first film in 1935 was a two-reel short called "Every Sunday Afternoon," but her first well-known movie was "Pigskin Parade."

Plan Underway To Furnish Home For Girls

Pickaway County Commissioners met with Child Welfare Board officials Monday morning to make preliminary plans for furnishing the new Carriage House Group Home for Girls.

Meeting with the commission were Mrs. Helen Hedges, president of the CWB, and Mrs. Sylvia Johnson, executive secretary.

Commissioners had authorized Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hedges to salvage equipment and furnishings from the Children's Home, closed last fall after CWB case workers objected to the construction of a new home. Others who rummaged the Children's Home for usable items, with the commission's consent, included officials of the Brooks-Yates School and Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

The county is to take possession of the Carriage House property on Friday and the Child Welfare Board is anxious to furnish, staff and occupy the new home.

Warren, at 78, was eager to step down from the bench. Actually he announced his intention to retire nearly a year ago, but stayed when the Senate refused to confirm his originally-appointed successor, Abe Fortas.

His public life began 50 years ago when he was first elected to office in California. He moved up to become the state's attorney general and then governor.

Quick thinking by a friend and a deputy sheriff saved the life of Henry Stevenson, 68, Columbus, when he fell in Darby Creek and suffered leg cramps.

Robert Mathews, 51, of Columbus, Stevenson's fishing companion, couldn't pull him out of the water by himself. He took Stevenson's belt and tied it to the bank along McLean Mill Road and then went for aid.

Mrs. Ruth Neff, Route 3, called the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and reported the incident.

A neighbor, Gene Hoover, and Sheriff's Deputy Earl Kuhn, helped pull Stevenson from the creek.

Stevenson was not injured.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio traffic accidents killed 20 people—11 of them children—over the weekend.

Five Ohioans died in traffic Friday night during the first six hours of the weekend period. They included two Ashtabula girls, Norma Foltz and Pamela Campbell, both 17, killed in a two-car crash near Ashtabula.

Local Youth To Tour UN

IOOF-Sponsored Trip Scheduled Friday

Stephen Seaburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Seaburn, Route 1, Williamsport, will leave for New York City Friday to take part in the 20th annual Odd Fellows' United Nations Pilgrimage for youth.

Seaburn, a student at Westfall High School, will be an observer at the United Nations Headquarters. He was chosen, after open competition with other high school teenagers, by Columbia Lodge 32, IOOF, Circleville.

He will travel by educational bus tour leaving Toledo Friday, together with other students and two adult counselors from Ohio. Rodney Cassabon of Maumee is in charge of the trip which will visit Ontario and Niagara Falls on its way to New York City. The tour will return through Washington D.C.

While at UN headquarters, the student delegates will be briefed on the many serious problems existing between member nations, of progress in disarmament and the peaceful use of atomic energy, and of the ways in which problems of health, education, employment and industry in underdeveloped countries are being helped.

In addition, representatives of member nations will be interviewed, some with the aid of interpreters and Commissions and Committees will be seen in action. International House, where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof, will be visited, plus an evening at Radio City Music Hall, a boat trip around Manhattan Island as guests of New York Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

A valuable by-product of the Pilgrimage is the fellowship, which grows up among the 1,000 or more young delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada. The Pilgrimage is divided into seven groups, each of which will spend one week in New York during the Summer of 1969. Since this great project was instituted in 1950, 13,991 students have participated. The entire expense is absorbed by Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges. These informed serious teenagers, on their return home have become assets to their areas and great aid in the spread of knowledge and the furtherance of world peace.

differences with Warren apparently were put behind them earlier this year, when the President appointed Burger he stressed that the Minnesota native was his kind of "law and order" judge who would take a more traditional approach as chief justice.

Warren, at 78, was eager to step down from the bench. Actually he announced his intention to retire nearly a year ago, but stayed when the Senate refused to confirm his originally-appointed successor, Abe Fortas.

His public life began 50 years ago when he was first elected to office in California. He moved up to become the state's attorney general and then governor. He ran for vice president on the 1948 Republican ticket and once had his eye on the White House itself. Although a lawyer, he became chief justice in 1953 with limited experience in constitutional law.

Ivory Coast Still 'Neocolonialist'

By MORT ROSENBLUM
ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP) — The Russians have been expelled here and the West—at least France—now has this dazzling example of "neocolonialism" all to itself again.

France gave the Ivory Coast independence in 1960, but the French never left. This city of 450,000 is a blend of Paris-like shops and parks with lagoon-side boulevards, all landscaped in lush greens and reds.

More than $4 million worth of wine is imported annually along with cheeses, mineral waters and gadgets and fashions for "les drugstores." Thirty thousand Frenchmen, even some French prostitutes, live here.

Soviet ideologists frequently assailed the French presence, evoking the term "neocolonialism" so unlabeled in Africa. Apparently, Western diplomats say, they overdid it.

President Felix Houphouet-Boigny, 64, a friend and former minister of Charles de Gaulle, gave the Soviet ambassador and his mission 48 hours to leave on May 30.

The Soviet mission, which listed nine diplomats, flew out four tons of freight and left the rest for sea shipment. They received a 24-hour extension but troops surrounded the embassy.

No official reason was given though the government subtly indicated the expulsion had to do with Soviet meddling in student disturbances. Many observers regard this as a cover for other reasons.

"Houphouet was never very happy with the Russians," said one well-informed diplomat from a small Western nation. "I think he was happy for the pretext to get rid of them."

Houphouet-Boigny had wanted to prove nonalignment and seek a nonquota coffee market but the price was too high, the diplomat said.

Semantics aside, "neocolonialism" involvement here has made this a showcase in emergent Africa. The country exported $400 million worth of products last year; its $110 million trade surplus was more than many African countries sold together. It is the world's third largest coffee producer and fourth in cocoa.

International bankers last year lent the Ivory Coast $10 million in Eurodollars, the first such loan to Black Africa.

Total foreign investment figures are lacking, but a government annual lists 42 pages of major enterprises, mainly French, some with capital ranging over $2 million.

France pumps in $20 million to $25 million a year in grants and loans, not counting sizable items like war—service indemnities to veterans.

High-rise buildings spring up like jungle umbrella trees. The drawback is the intangible sociological conflict. Ivoryans must decide whether a crack at the good life is worth having a staggering majority of Frenchmen holding key public and private posts in their country. A large measure of patronization and bald rudeness still exists among some old colonials.

Still, there is a surprising lack of discernible objection to Houphouet-Boigny's pro-Western stance. For one thing, the press is relatively muzzled.

Also, the foreigners mean work for the Ivory Coast's four million inhabitants. More than a million Africans from neighboring countries have sought the Ivory Coast's greener grass. If racism or high prices grated them, they could always go back to Upper Volta, Mali, Guinea or wherever. Few do—most just learn Parisian slang.

ley was servicing a car and a shot was fired. Police said about $120 was missing from the station, owned by Oakley's brothers.

Let's Tour Ohio

Bellefontaine Area Rich In Tourist Attractions

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short tours of Ohio's top travel attractions prepared for the Circleville Herald by the Columbus Auto Club Travel Department.

Two caves, two castles and a fine state park and lake feature a drive through the area near Bellefontaine, which also boasts the "crown" of Ohio, the state's highest point.

Indian Lake is one of the state's largest (5800 acres) and has great appeal for water sport lovers, especially boating. While not large, the park has plenty of camping sites and good picnicking facilities. Nearby is an amusement park.

Ohio Caverns, on Ohio 245, and Zane Caverns, on Ohio 540, both offer guided tours that take about an hour. On a hot summer day, they can be especially enjoyable because both hold constant temperatures of 54 degrees.

Largest and perhaps most beautiful in the state, Ohio Caverns have striking formations of stalactites and stalagmites. Tours of the illuminated caverns run 8 to 5. Admission, $2; children $1.41. There is no charge for the well-kept picnic area.

Zane Caverns are still in "active" growth and tours through the illuminated caverns descends 132 feet. Hours are 9-6. Admission, $1.50; children, 75 cents. Picnicking, camping and hiking facilities are available.

Ohio's only castles are a mile apart on Ohio 245. They were built in the 1860's and '70's by General Abraham and Colonel Don Platt, whose family dates back to the French and Indian War. They are open 9 to 7, admission to each is charged.

Mac-o-cheek models a French Norman chateau. It has three floors, 35 rooms and a five-story tower. Authentically furnished, its frescoed ceilings are perfectly preserved. Mac-O-Chee, which resembles a Flemish castle, has three floors and two spires, with frescoed ceilings and walls.

Ohio's "crown" is just off U.S. 33, east of Ohio 540, and is the site of a radar installation.

AAA suggests this routing to the tour area. From Circleville, go north on US 23 to Jct. of 1-270; west on 1-270 to Jct. with 1-71; north on 1-71 to Jct. with US 33; northwest on US 33 to the tour area.

Estimates were that at least 50,000 crabs made up the silent invasion which, among other things, threatened wildlife in an animal park on the island.

DEAR FRIENDS,

I can't tell you how thrilled I was to receive your unique birthday card containing birthday greetings from 100 of my friends and fans in Circleville. I know it required a great deal of time and effort on Ben Gordon's part and I am deeply grateful. I have read the card over and over again and the names inscribed thereon brought back many fond memories. I shall keep it always among my valued possessions. I want to add my thanks to all of the others who sent birthday greetings and good wishes. For me, Circleville is still and will always be the Capitol of the world. Mrs. Lewis joins me in sending best wishes.

Sincerely,
TED LEWIS

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LAST MARCH, Jerome Beatty ran into a girl "hippie" who didn't look a day over fourteen. "I've given up pot for Lent," she assured him. "Good going," approved Beatty, but added, "Are you sure you know what pot is?" "Of course I do," she maintained, "but what's Lent?"

The son of a powerful New York tycoon had been bounced out of a round half dozen spiffy prep schools because he refused to study, but at last he was enrolled in one where he seemed to be doing well. Some months after he had been admitted there, the father discovered the secret of the boy's new success. It seems that the headmaster's wife was a sculptress, and she thought the boy had such a beautiful head that she was using him as a model! Grumbled the father, "Since my boy never has given any one the opportunity to judge what's inside his head, it's gratifying that the outside at least is admired!"

I am indebted to Prof. Russell Miles, of the University of Illinois, for these new atrocious puns: As he was pulling in his kite, Ben Franklin gleefully told himself, "Watts my line" . . . A diner was so pleased with the way his eggs had been prepared that he told his waitress, "Young lady, these eggs are above reproach."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can a mother distinguish between an ordinary bellyache and an attack of appendicitis? In a large family living way out in the country the mother becomes the house physician.

Mrs. M.D.E., New Jersey Dear Mrs. E.: I could not resist recognizing that the first two initials of your name are M. D. The coincidence of these initials for a "house physician" could not be overlooked.

It is generally admitted that the diagnosis of an acute attack of appendicitis is probably one of the most difficult ones to make in the practice of medicine. The reason is that an inflammation of the appendix produces symptoms over its site and also in areas far removed from it. Few people know that a sore throat with swollen glands in the neck may be responsible for nausea, vomiting and abdominal cramps. Sometimes with a throat infection tiny glands around the small intestine enlarge and mimic signs of appendicitis.

Irritation of the diaphragm, pleurisy and bronchopneumonia may send radiating pains to the right lower quadrant of the abdomen and simulate appendicitis. It is apparent, therefore, that mothers should not undertake any harsh treatment for a stomach-ache. Nor should they disregard symptoms that have a tendency to recur.

Always lean in the direction of safety when a child complains of abdominal pain associated with nausea and vomiting. Do not use laxatives or enemas except after consultation with your doctor. The application of heating pads or ice bags to a painful abdomen may mask the pain that is of importance to the doctor. Any condition that lasts longer than a "M. D." mother knows it should, especially when it is accompanied by fever, deserves expert watching.

Sometimes physicians are confused about this complicated diagnosis even after periods of careful watching and the study of the blood. A doctor and surgeon called in consultation for operation because it is the safest approach. Modern surgery and the safety of anesthesia take away the risk of guesswork and frequently turn out to be the simplest and safest way to solve the problem. A good rule of safety for families in and outside the city is to have constant contact with a doctor whose advice must be followed.

I know that adrenalin comes from the adrenal glands. Where are they and why are they so important?

Mr. N. R., Florida Dear Mr. R.: The adrenal glands are two triangular shaped organs about one and a half inches long. There are two and each is closely attached to the upper part of the kidney. The adrenals are two of the most important hormone secreting glands and play a vital role in most of the functions of the body.

Adrenalin, manufactured in these glands, can raise the blood pressure, stimulate the heart, induce emotional excitement, alter general fatigue, and affect the concentration of sugar in the blood and in the tissues of the body.

The adrenal glands contain two separate parts, a cortex and a medulla. Each plays a different role in the activity of the body. Among a number of disorders are Addison's and Cushing's disease, which are caused by changes in this most complex and vital organ. The relationship between the secretions from the adrenal glands and those in the pituitary gland in the brain dominates most of our health structure.

It's estimated that some 40 million Americans will spend part of this summer with no roof over their heads. This isn't a poverty report — they'll be out camping, a survey indicates.

The man at the next desk wonders how many mosquitoes those 40 million campers will attract. His guess is 40 quadrillion (40,000,000,000,000). That's an O-ful lot!

Wonder how he arrives at that figure? Probably through (and we do mean through!) a nation-wide canvas.

So many Americans will be sleeping under canvas this hot spell that when you and your neighbors go vacationing it won't be so much a case of pulling up stakes as putting them down!

J.L. Lewis Eulogized

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When John L. Lewis, the man who built the United Mine Workers and the CIO, died the other day, his union was under growing attack from several sources. The union itself was busy fending off its enemies, which it described as an "evil combination" of atomic energy proponents, Communists, non-union operators who are lax in enforcing coal mine safety, Ralph Nader (who has been after UMW President Tony Boyle for allegedly failing to push such health measures as dust control legislation), and the big insurance companies "who would like to take over our Welfare Fund."

Since miners spend most of their working lives in isolation, up against rock and coal in the dark underground, it is understandable when their leadership shows the same defensive psychology that characterizes the "man from the picks." In his younger days John L. Lewis was always a tough "union - against - the - world" man, and even as late as World War II he cared so little about that nebulous thing called "public opinion" that he dared call three strikes against wartime wage control. But in his old age Lewis exhibited considerable serenity about the state of his miners.

He had a right to his satisfactions. A profound student of economics, Lewis had resolved that the American coal industry should not be allowed to go the way of either the British or the Russian industry. He fought the U.S. coal operators to the last inch when it came to negotiating wage-and-hour contracts. He was also adamant about safety and health insurance provisions, and one of his standard gambits when addressing the mine owners at the Hotel Shoreham in Washington was to shout at them, "There's blood on your hands."

But when the operators, trying to keep their industry solvent, introduced all sorts of labor-saving equipment, improving the underground loaders and developing the techniques of strip mining, Lewis never once objected. He had seen for himself the backwardness of British and Welsh coal mining, and he knew the stories about Russian miners who worked up to their waists in water. By permitting the U.S.

coal industry to mechanize the mines Lewis raised the wage of his miners to $35 a day where the British miner, working in a backward nationalized industry, gets $8 a day. Meanwhile Lewis set up the UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund to take care of old miners who found themselves out of jobs because of technological changes in the coal business.

Despite the threats of atomic energy, residual oil and natural gas, and despite the tariff and non-tariff barriers in other countries which limit the export market for U.S. coal, the industry continues to thrive. In 1948 the electric utilities burned only 95 million tons of coal. Last year they burned 293 million tons, which was 22 million tons over the 1947 consumption. Lewis's work has been well done. If he had taken a narrow view of mechanization the U.S. coal industry would have gone the way of the mines of Britain. The U.S. needs more labor

Laff-A-Day

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LAST MARCH, Jerome Beatty ran into a girl "hippie" who didn't look a day over fourteen. "I've given up pot for Lent," she assured him. "Good going," approved Beatty, but added, "Are you sure you know what pot is?" "Of course I do," she maintained, "but what's Lent?"

The son of a powerful New York tycoon had been bounced out of a round half dozen spiffy prep schools because he refused to study, but at last he seemed to be doing well. Some months after he had been admitted there, the father discovered the secret of the boy's new success. It seems that the headmaster's wife was a sculptress, and she thought the boy had such a beautiful head that she was using him as a model. Grumbled the father, "Since my boy never has given any one the opportunity to judge what's inside his head, it's gratifying that the outside at least is admired."

I am indebted to Prof. Russell Miles, of the University of Illinois, for these new atrocious puns: As he was pulling in his kite, Ben Franklin gleefully told himself, "Watts my line" . . . A diner so pleased with the way his eggs had been prepared that he told his waitress, "Young lady, these eggs are above reproach."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can a mother distinguish between an ordinary bellyache and an attack of appendicitis? In a large family living way out in the country the mother becomes the house physician.

Mrs. M.D.E., New Jersey
Dear Mrs. E.: I could not resist recognizing that the first two initials of your name are M. D. The coincidence of these initials for a "house physician" could not be overlooked.

It is generally admitted that the diagnosis of an acute attack of appendicitis is probably one of the most difficult ones to make in the practice of medicine. The reason is that an inflammation of the appendix produces symptoms over its site and also in areas far removed from it. Few people know that a sore throat with swollen glands in the neck may be responsible for nausea, vomiting and abdominal cramps. Sometimes with a throat infection tiny glands around the small intestine enlarge and mimic signs of appendicitis.

Irritation of the diaphragm, pleurisy and bronchopneumonia may send radiating pains to the right lower quadrant of the abdomen and simulate appendicitis. It is apparent, therefore, that mothers should not undertake any harsh treatment for a stomach-ache. Nor should they disregard symptoms that have a tendency to recur.

Always lean in the direction of safety when a child complains of abdominal pain associated with nausea and vomiting. Do not use laxatives or enemas except after consultation with your doctor. The application of heating pads or ice bags to a painful abdomen may mask the pain that is of importance to the doctor. Any condition that lasts longer than a "M. D." mother knows it should, especially when it is accompanied by fever, deserves expert watching.

Sometimes physicians are confused about this complicated diagnosis even after periods of careful watching and the study of the blood. A doctor and surgeon called in consultation will frequently advise an operation because it is the safest approach. Modern surgery and the safety of anesthesia take away the risk of guesswork and frequently turn out to be the simplest and safest way to solve the problem. A good rule of safety for families in and outside the city is to have constant contact with

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When John L. Lewis, the man who built the United Mine Workers and the CIO, died the other day, his union was under growing attack from several sources. The union itself was busy fending off its enemies, which it described as an "evil combination" of atomic energy proponents, Communists, non-union operators who are lax in enforcing coal mine safety, Ralph Nader (who has been after UMW President Tony Boyle for allegedly failing to push such health measures as dust control legislation), and the big insurance companies "who would like to take over our Welfare Fund."

Since miners spend most of their working lives in isolation, up against rock and coal in the dark underground, it is understandable when their leadership shows the same defensive psychology that characterizes the "man from the picks." In his younger days John L. Lewis was always a tough "union - against - the - world" man, and even as late as World War II he cared so little about that nebulous thing called "public opinion" that he dared call three strikes against wartime wage control. But in his old age Lewis exhibited considerable serenity about the state of his miners.

He had a right to his satisfactions. A profound student of economics, Lewis had resolved that the American coal industry should not be allowed to go the way of either the British or the Russian industry. He fought the U.S. coal operators to the last inch when it came to negotiating wage-and-hour contracts. He was also adamant about safety and health insurance provisions, and one of his standard gambits when addressing the mine owners at the Hotel Shoreham in Washington was to shout at them, "There's blood on your hands."

But when the operators, trying to keep their industry solvent, introduced all sorts of labor-saving equipment, improving the underground loaders and developing the techniques of strip mining, Lewis never once objected. He had seen for himself the backwardness of British and Welsh coal mining, and he knew the stories about Russian miners who worked up to their waists in water. By permitting the U.S.

coal industry to mechanize the mines Lewis raised the wage of his miners to $35 a day where the British miner, working in a backward nationalized industry, gets $8 a day. Meanwhile Lewis set up the UMW Welfare and Retirement Fund to take care of old miners who found themselves out of jobs because of technological changes in the coal business.

Despite the threats of atomic energy, residual oil and natural gas, and despite the tariff and non-tariff barriers in other countries which limit the export market for U.S. coal, the industry continues to thrive. In 1948 the electric utilities burned only 95 million tons of coal. Last year they burned 293 million tons, which was 22 million tons over the 1967 consumption. Lewis's work has been well done. If he had taken a narrow view of mechanization the U.S. coal industry would have gone the way of the mines of Britain. The U.S. needs more labor leaders of the calibre of John L. Lewis. In the next decade the flood of teen-agers who owe their existence to the post-war "baby boom" will be young married couples, looking distractedly for homes. They will wish profoundly that there had been a John L. Lewis in our construction industry, which retains so many antiquated practices that there is little hope of our getting the 75 million new homes — an average of 2,500,000 a year — that we are going to need over the next thirty years. Even with extensive prefabrication there would be so much demand for carpenters, masons and plumbers in the next decade that it is virtually criminal for the construction trades union leaders to oppose such labor-saving things as modular construction in building technology. A John L. Lewis would see this as our present crop of shortsighted building leaders to oppose such labor-saving things as modular construction in building technology. A John L. Lewis would see this as our present crop of shortsighted building leaders to oppose such labor-saving things as modular construction in building technology.

Dear Abby: Her Pen Pal Is In For Trouble

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: George (made up name) and I have been married for 27 years. We have six children. Two are married and we have grandchildren, too. Abby, I really love this man with all my heart.

Recently an old girl friend of George's found his name in a telephone directory and she wrote him a letter, asking him to reply. Well, he CALLED HER UP, long distance, and they talked for 20 minutes.

George told her he was happily married and had six children. She told George she had married an alcoholic, who deserted her four years ago.

Well, I thought that was that, but in a couple of days here comes a letter from this woman. She told my husband her whole life history since they had last seen each other, which was 30 years ago, and she closed by saying, "Let's keep in touch."

Now, Abby, I can't see any saying, "Let's keep in touch," with her, can you? George says there is no harm in reviving an old friendship, but I know they were more than friends.

Don't you think George is just looking for trouble? Please put your answer in the paper as he reads your faithfully and respects your advice.

GEORGE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: George is not looking for "trouble"—he's looking for excitement. But trouble is probably what he will find. Tell him you love him, you're jealous, and if he "keeps in touch" with this old flame from 30 years back, he'll break your heart.

DEAR ABBY: No offense

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has gone on record urging punishment to the "fullest extent" of the law of individuals avoiding military service by seeking refuge outside the country.

Groups giving counsel on how to avoid military service also were attacked in the resolution adopted Friday.

Other resolutions opposed eliminating the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance, urged adoption of the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system, opposed changing the dates for observance of Memorial Day or Veterans Day and supported a proposed state law that would require state universities to expel any student who desecrates the American flag.

'King's Dream' Object Of Talk

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The widow of assassinated Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr., said Sunday in Cleveland, "My husband dreamed of a world without oppression, but but this world is far from complete."

Speaking at the annual women's day observance at Olivet institutional Baptist Church, Mrs. Coretta King said, "The time is now to begin the ministry of reconciliation, to feed the hungry in Biafra and Atlanta."

She said that despite the present social unrest in the United States, "beyond I see signs of a new social order, the dawning of another day."

Boom In Steel Exports Aids In Keeping Production High

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A boom in exports is helping sustain domestic steel production and mill shipments close to the high levels of recent months, Steel magazine reported Monday.

Exports through April this year totaled 1,094,802 net tons, a 123 per cent increase over those of the corresponding period last year, it said.

Raw steel output last week was estimated at 2,771,000 net tons, unchanged from the preceding week when a dip of two-tenths of one per cent was registered. Second quarter shipments are expected to hit 25 million net tons, the magazine said.

It added, however, that tight money may make the last six months less active for steel mills than anticipated earlier this year.

"Producers now are less confident than they were a few years ago that a new production record will be established," Steel said.

The magazine said that booming world demand is diverting more steel from the United States than had been projected under the European and Japanese producers' voluntary export quotas and that rising prices abroad are adding to importers' worries.

"The import price spread under U.S. domestic quotations is narrowing and in some cases it seems to have vanished," Steel said.

It reported an importer just returned from abroad told of European mills being so jammed with orders that they'll probably fall short of their voluntary shipment quota to the United States. However, the importer said the Japanese probably would fill their quota. Both groups voluntarily restricted shipments to the U.S. this year to 5.7 million net tons each.

Steelmaking scrap prices, on the rise since mid-April, showed signs of slipping last week. Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap dropped 17 cents to $30.50.

Hanoi Blasts 'Spy Missions'

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency said Saturday the United States carried out 400 "manned and unmanned" spy missions and "frequent raids" over North Vietnam during the first half of June.

North Vietnam also claimed U.S. aircraft dropped "300 blast bombs, 50 time bombs and 15,600 steel pellet bombs and fired 5 missiles and 10 rockets, causing substantial loss to dwelling houses, animals and crops."

The claims were made in a communique issued by what the broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

GEORGE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: George is not looking for "trouble"—he's looking for excitement. But trouble is probably what he will find. Tell him you love him, you're jealous, and if he "keeps in touch" with this old flame from 30 years back, he'll break your heart.

DEAR ABBY: No offense

Draft Dodgers Blasted By VFW

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has gone on record urging punishment to the "fullest extent" of the law of individuals avoiding military service by seeking refuge outside the country.

Groups giving counsel on how to avoid military service also were attacked in the resolution adopted Friday.

Other resolutions opposed eliminating the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance, urged adoption of the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system, opposed changing the dates for observance of Memorial Day or Veterans Day and supported a proposed state law that would require state universities to expel any student who desecrates the American flag.

'King's Dream' Object Of Talk

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The widow of assassinated Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr., said Sunday in Cleveland, "My husband dreamed of a world without oppression, but this world is far from complete."

Speaking at the annual women's day observance at Olivet institutional Baptist Church, Mrs. Coretta King said, "The time is now to begin the ministry of reconciliation, to feed the hungry in Biafra and Atlanta."

She said that despite the present social unrest in the United States, "beyond I see signs of a new social order, the dawning of another day."

Boom In Steel Exports Aids In Keeping Production High

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A boom in exports is helping sustain domestic steel production and mill shipments close to the high levels of recent months. Steel magazine reported Monday.

Exports through April this year totaled 1,094,802 net tons, a 123 per cent increase over those of the corresponding period last year, it said.

Raw steel output last week was estimated at 2,771,000 net tons, unchanged from the preceding week when a dip of two-tenths of one per cent was registered. Second quarter shipments are expected to hit 25 million net tons, the magazine said.

It added, however, that tight money may make the last six months less active for steel mills than anticipated earlier this year.

"Producers now are less confident than they were a few years ago that a new production record will be established," Steel said.

The magazine said that booming world demand is diverting more steel from the United States than had been projected under the European and Japanese producers' voluntary export quotas and that rising prices abroad are adding to importers' worries.

"The import price spread under U.S. domestic quotations is narrowing and in some cases it seems to have vanished," Steel said.

It reported an importer just returned from abroad told of European mills being so jammed with orders that they'll probably fall short of their voluntary shipment quota to the United States. However, the importer said the Japanese probably would fill their quota. Both groups voluntarily restricted shipments to the U.S. this year to 5.7 million net tons each.

Steelmaking scrap prices, on the rise since mid-April, showed signs of slipping last week. Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap dropped 17 cents to $30.50.

Hanoi Blasts 'Spy Missions'

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency said Saturday the United States carried out 400 "manned and unmanned" spy missions and "frequent raids" over North Vietnam during the first half of June.

North Vietnam also claimed U.S. aircraft dropped "300 blast bombs, 50 time bombs and 15,600 steel pellet bombs and fired 5 missiles and 10 rockets, causing substantial loss to dwelling houses, animals and crops."

The claims were made in a communique issued by what the broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

Newsman Drowned

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A search was to resume today for the body of a local newspaper photographer who drowned in the Ohio River early Sunday after a runabout and houseboat collided.

Ken Beagle, 25, of nearby Crescent Springs, Ky., was one of 17 people on the houseboat owned by Phillip Taliaferro, assistant Kenton County prosecuting attorney. Fifteen people were treated for bruises and cuts at hospitals and were released. One person was not hurt.

Charles Bowling, 41, of Cincinnati who operated the runabout, was charged with reckless operation of a motor boat and with being drunk in a public place. He was freed after posting $50 bond Sunday and is to appear in Kenton County court June 25. He was not hurt.

"He was coming right at us with the nose of his boat out of the water," said John Harris, who was piloting the houseboat. "We just didn't have the speed or the power to get out of the way in time."

Taliaferro was hosting a party for Beagle and other members of the Kentucky staff of the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star when the 20-foot speedboat and 26-foot houseboat collided.

Man Faces Charge In Other's Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Akron Police have filed manslaughter charges against 24-year-old Peter Puet of Akron for the Saturday night shotgun death of Samuel Ragland, 23, of Akron.

Police said the two men were neighbors in the same apartment house and exchanged gunfire following an argument. Police said that Ragland apparently shot first and Puet left but came back with a shotgun and fired at Ragland.

Seminole Indians Ask $40 Million

By DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final battle in what is the longest and often bitterest Indian dispute in the nation's history is being fought in an obscure government agency with nearly $35 million at stake.

Seminole Indians have asked the Indian Claims Commission, which opens hearings today, to approve a $40 million claim for 32 million acres of Florida the tribe owned in the 18th and early 19th centuries.

The government has offered the Indians $5.8 million.

The Seminoles owned most of Florida when Spain gave up the territory to the United States in 1819. They claim the American white man robbed the tribe of the land at arms point and through false treaties, a point not contested by the government.

Attorneys for the Seminoles figure the land was worth an average of at least $1.25 an acre when the government took it in the 1820s. Government lawyers estimate its value at about 18 cents per acre.

Some of the Florida land was quite valuable—containing forests of live oak trees, in demand then by shipbuilders and particularly for naval vessels. Much of the land was the Indians' hunting grounds. Crops were raised on portions of the land.

The long Seminole dispute started in 1816 when Gen. Andrew Jackson invaded Florida to punish the tribe for hiding fugitive American slaves and didn't end officially until a peace treaty was signed in 1834. The first Seminole war, waged by Jackson, ended in 1818, a year before the United States had legal rights in the territory.

Through armed force and a series of forcibly imposed treaties the Seminoles gradually lost their Florida land until 1832

when some tribe leaders agreed to give up all claims and move their people to what is now Oklahoma.

However, many Seminoles refused to leave and in 1835 the second Seminole war broke out. Before it was over, the Seminoles under chief Osceola, had killed more than 1,500 federal troops and cost the government $20 million.

Attorneys for the tribe estimate about 1,500 Seminoles still live in Florida and 3,500 more reside in Oklahoma, which would mean about $7,500 for each if the entire $40 million is awarded.

However, Congress will determine how the money will be allocated when and if it appropriates the funds.

Cause Is Sought For Oil Slick Fire

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — No cause was determined Sunday for an oil slick fire which floated down the Cuyahoga River in Cleveland, damaging two railroad trestles before being put out with the aid of a fireboat.

One of the two trestles, a two-track bridge owned by the Norfolk & Western Railway, was closed because of damage estimated at $45,000. Firemen blamed industries along the river for the oil slick.

AIR TRAFFIC SICK, SICK, SICK—Jet passenger aircraft are backed up on a takeoff runway at Newark (N.J.) Airport as air controllers stage a 2-day "sick strike" across the country. The strike left tens of thousands of passengers stranded and thousands of pounds of air freight standing at air terminals.

Laird, Helms To Testify On Soviet Missile Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and CIA Director Richard Helms were called to testify today before a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the Soviet offensive missile capability.

Laird in the past has contended the Russians are aiming at a nuclear first strike capability, a position some Democratic senators are skeptical about.

"We've heard so many things around here that weren't so, that I think the attitude of a lot of us is that it ain't necessarily so," committee chairman Sen. J. W. Fulbright said.

Fulbright, D-Ark., had said earlier he didn't think intelligence findings supported Laird's contentions about Moscow's missile program.

It was a similar challenge which caused Laird to demand that Helms be called to sit beside him to substantiate his position that there are no administrative differences over intelligence evaluations.

Fulbright said he favored separate appearances. He praised Helms, saying he has a feeling that the latter "is a professional and he has been straightforward."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a committee member and a supporter of the administration's missile defense system, said he interprets the intelligence controversy and recent efforts to halt development of a multiple-target missile as desperation tactics by ABM critics.

"The strength of ABM support is growing," Mundt said. "Now its foes are abandoning hope of stopping it and are changing their target."

"They want to stop our testing of a multiple-target (MIRV) missile while the Russians are going right ahead with their tests."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., a committee member opposing ABM, said a proposal he sponsors would call for a moratorium on MIRV tests only so long as the Russians refrain from testing.

He told an Atlantic City audience Sunday night the United States is ahead in this field and no one could maintain that a moratorium would put the Soviets ahead.

He said if the MIRV becomes operational, it will wipe out all chance of getting any nuclear arms limitation because neither side can gauge the other's strength without on-site inspections to which neither would agree.

Newsman Drowned

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A search was to resume today for the body of a local newspaper photographer who drowned in the Ohio River early Sunday after a runabout and houseboat collided.

Ken Beagle, 25, of nearby Crescent Springs, Ky., was one of 17 people on the houseboat owned by Phillip Taliaferro, assistant Kenton County prosecuting attorney. Fifteen people were treated for bruises and cuts at hospitals and were released. One person was not hurt.

Charles Bowling, 41, of Cincinnati who operated the runabout, was charged with reckless operation of a motor boat and with being drunk in a public place. He was freed after posting $50 bond Sunday and is to appear in Kenton County court June 25. He was not hurt.

"He was coming right at us with the nose of his boat out of the water," said John Harris, who was piloting the houseboat. "We just didn't have the speed or the power to get out of the way in time."

Taliaferro was hosting a party for Beagle and other members of the Kentucky staff of the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star when the 20-foot speedboat and 26-foot houseboat collided.

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—By now, the myth should be dispelled that every character actor is simply waiting around until he can get the lead in his own television series.

Paul Brinegar scoffs at the notion of becoming a superstar. "More and more we're finding out, particularly on television, that it's hard to top yourself week after week," said Brinegar, who is the bearded and irascible Jelly Hoskins on "Lancer" on CBS.

"I love the top character supporting role," he said. "You get as much money, the same glory and the rest you need. I only have to work about three days a week."

Brinegar is at the top of the coterie of character actors whose job is to add flavor to television and the movies. Before joining "Lancer" at mid-season, Brinegar had popped up consistently in such shows as "Bonanza," "Iron Horse," "Perry Mason," and "Daniel Boone."

Perhaps he is best known for his eight years as Wishbone on "Rawhide."

After "Rawhide" left the air, Brinegar briefly left character parts. The experience was one that re-confirmed his dedication to supporting roles.

"I shaved my beard," he said. "I thought I was going to make a million dollars as a handsome leading man. Not only that, I put on a toupee."

"I thought I was well enough known that I was just selling a new image. Well, let me tell you, I couldn't get a job. Without this beard, I couldn't have gotten this job."

Does he lose himself in the personality of the character he is playing?

"Hell, I don't lose myself in a character. I make the character fit me," he laughed.

Between takes on the 20th Century Fox lot, where filming is under way for the second scene of "Lancer," he said:

"In television, if you're going to have any public appeal, you can't invent a characterization. It has to be real if the public is going to accept it."

"I make the character fit me so well there's no situation I can't handle easily," he said.

"Of course, a freelancer who goes from role to role can throw himself into a part because he doesn't have to sustain characterization," he added.

Brinegar contends that some television writing is so shallow that "you're lucky to be able to even get in and create a scene."

Asked what talents a character actor needs most, he answered, "Flexibility is a necessity. If you can only do it one way, you limit your job."

Some GOP Senators Unhappy With Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Resentment by the younger crop of Republican senators of the leadership policies and tactics of Everett M. Dirksen is breaking into the open and there are signs the public criticism may increase.

Last week freshman Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York made a floor attack on the veteran GOP leader for his attempts to block nomination of Dr. John H. Knowles as the nation's top health officer.

And Massachusetts Sen. Edward W. Brooke, also serving his first term, has been eager for a showdown with Dirksen over the Knowles affair.

These moves are symptomatic of growing feeling among the newer GOP senators that Dirksen is out of step with the times.

While the critical Republicans are unlikely to dislodge Dirksen now from the party leadership

he has held for a decade, they could pose a threat should the 1970 election bring another influx of younger, more liberal GOP senators as happened in 1966 and 1968.

Two-thirds of the GOP senators elected in those two years, plus two appointees, favor greater GOP initiatives in the domestic area, an end to the Vietnam war and a lessening of emphasis on military matters.

In this they join such OP veterans as Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky who have always stood to the left of the party's leadership.

"They're closer to the mood of the country," one Democratic leadership source said privately of the GOP newcomers.

One of the new Republicans agreed.

Referring to efforts by himself and Sens. Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania, Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland and Marlow Cook of Kentucky, Sen. William Saxbe of Ohio said "We feel certain things that people who haven't run in some time, or who run in more rural states haven't found."

Saxbe said "I'm real disturbed" by Dirksen's belated efforts to block or change a resolution now before the Senate to reassert the Senate's role in any commitment made by the executive branch to foreign countries.

"During the campaign," he said, "there was so much talk about Congress shirking its duties and giving a blank check to the President. It puts Republicans who were here and said this last year into a tight position."

Few critics, however, would go as far as Goodell who told the Senate last Wednesday that Dirksen should withdraw his objection to appointment of Dr. Knowles as assistant secretary of health, education and welfare for health and "allow the Senate to work its will."

While the New York Republican did not go as far as he had in a Canada press conference where he referred to Dirksen as an "obstructionist," he did say he believes "very deeply in the President's right to nominate whomever he wants for such a post and that 'these principles, essential facets of our government, are being violated." And Brooke, who has told the White House there are sufficient votes to confirm Knowles, is eager for Nixon to press the matter.

Fort Marcy Edges Poleax At Hollywood Invitational

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Paul Mellon's flying fortress has staged another successful invasion of California.

Saturday afternoon, 30 hours after boarding a plane in New York, Fort Marcy was in the winner's circle at Hollywood Park following his nose victory over Poleax in the $100,000 Hollywood Invitational Turf Handicap.

It was the 5-year-old gelding's second successful air attack on a $100,000 stakes in California. Last year, following the same time schedule, he flew out to score a victory in the Sunset Handicap.

Joining Fort Marcy as winners of Saturday's big races were Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee, in the $119,625 Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park and Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack, in the $111,800 Arlington Classic at Arlington Park.

Shuvee's victory made her the second winner of the New York Racing Association's 9-year-old Triple Crown for Fillies. Last year, Dark Mirage became the first to win the Acorn, Mother Goose and CC American Oaks.

Fort Marcy almost had his trip ruined by W. R. Hawn's lightly-regarded Poleax, who put on a sizzling stretch drive that just missed. Court Fool finished behind Poleax.

Carrying topweight of 124 pounds, seven more than Poleax and nine more than Court Fool, Fort Marcy and jockey Manuel Ycaza finished the 1 1/4 miles of the inaugural running of Hollywood Invitational in 2:27.1-5 for a winning mutual payoff of $4.40.

Fort Marcy, who races in the silks of Mellon's Rokeby Stable, now has won 14 races, and the first money of $55,000 boosted his career bankroll to $567,931.

The CC American Oaks was Shuvee, who stumbled shortly after leaving the gate, but had no other problems.

Shuvee, $2.60, reched the end of the 1 1/4 miles in 2:03.1-5. three lengths ahead of Hail to Patsy, owned by Walter Kitchen. Secret Verdict was third in the field of seven 3-year-old fillies, equal-weighted at 121 pounds.

Ack Ack also had an easy time, romping the Arlington Classic mile in 1:34.1-5 for a 4 1/2-length victory over Ogden Phipps' King of the Castle, with Dorothy Riney's Fast Hilarious getting the show over Claiborne Farm's Dike, who finished third in the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes.

Dale Douglass Kemper Open Golf Winner

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The galleries were roaring, the noise from the vast army sweeping in waves over the course, as Arnold Palmer made his charge.

"Everybody was excited," Dale Douglass said. "I could hear them."

"I got pretty excited, too. But for a different reason." But the excitement wasn't enough to shake his game and the placid, articulate Douglass cruised in with a final 67 and a four-stroke victory in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

He had a 274 total, 14 under par for the 7,205-yard, par-72 Quail Hollow Country Club course, and claimed the biggest check of his nine-year-old pro career, $30,000.

Charles Coody, who had a course record matching 65 and was one of several to challenge Douglass in the sweltering heat, finished second at 278.

South African Gary Player, with a 69, and Australian Bruce Crampton, with a 70, tied at 279. Palmer, the defending champion, made a run at it with a final 66 but finished at 280. He was tied with Joel Goldstrand, 69, Masters champion George Archer, 72, and England's Tony Jacklin, 71.

Lee Trevino had 74 for 284, Orville Moody had a 70 for 286 and PGA champ Julius Boros, 76 for 286.

Douglass a 6-foot-2, 155-pound stringbean from Denver, started the day with a one stroke lead and had to face the challenges of Palmer, Archer and Coody in that order.

Palmer made a move in a hurry, taking birds on three of the first five holes, turning in 32 and going eight under par for the tournament with a birdie on the 10th.

"He was just two shots back of me at that time," Douglass said, "but I could have bogeyed a couple and come back to him."

He didn't, however, and Palmer's charge fell short.

Senators Turn Back Detroit Tigers In Twinbill

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Lightning struck Detroit's Tiger Stadium twice Sunday, brought on by the thunder of the Washington Senators' bats. It rained, too.

The day started off in fine fashion with 52,721 fans marching through the turnstiles. Then the parades began. The Tigers paraded nine pitchers to the mound, the Senators paraded 18 runners around the bases and wound up with a 9-4, 9-5 sweep of the doubleheader. The second game was halted by rain after six innings.

The first lightning bolt came in the eighth inning of the opener the form of six runs, wiping out a 4-3 Tiger lead. It struck again in the fourth inning of the nightcap as the Senators trailing 1-0, sent 14 men to the plate and scored all nine runs. When the storm had passed, the defending world champion Tigers were mired in third place in the American League East, 12 games behind Baltimore.

Elsewhere, Oakland and Minnesota split a doubleheader, leaving the Athletics two percentage points ahead of the Twins in the AL West. The A's won the opener 7-3 and Minnesota took the nightcap 4-3 in 13 innings.

Baltimore drubbed Cleveland 6-0 after losing the first game 3-2, the New York Yankees beat Boston 5-3 in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox edged California 1-0 and Seattle beat Kansas City 5-1.

The Senators shelled a steady flow of Tiger pitchers for 25 hits, including two singles, two doubles and homer No. 15 by Mike Epstein who — was lifted for a pinch hitter during the first game explosion.

Eddie Brinkman, whose two-run single broke a 4-4 tie in the opener, singled in the run that put the Senators ahead 2-1 in the nightcap and then capped the nine-run outburst with a sacrifice fly.

Detroit hurlers Pat Dobson, Mike Kilkenny, Don McMahon and Tom Timmerman were the victims of the initial lightning blast, after Earl Wilson left for a pinch hitter. Starter Joe Sparma, Fred Lasher and Kilkenny again were roughed up in the second game before Daryl Patterson came on to work one scoreless inning preceding the rain.

Washington manager Ted Williams, who had an appetite for base hits during his own playing career, said a friend sent a big package of kielbasy (Polish sausage) to the Senator's dressing room before the doubleheader.

"What a diet, Kielbasy and base hits; it's great," Williams enthused. "We'll have to ask that guy to send more of that stuff around next time we visit town."

Manager Mayo Smith of the Tigers, who may develop a sore arm from waving to his bullpen, tried to be tactful.

"It was a pretty sad day," he said. "There was not much we could do about it. Our relief pitching was not as bad as it looked. We will come around all right."

Dodgers Smash Reds 5-0; 2nd Game Is Rained Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CINCINNATI (AP) — Los Angeles Manager Walter Alton had nothing to quibble about Sunday after his pitchers made Cincinnati's bats look anemic for the third straight game.

"I'll settle for that," the veteran pilot said after the Dodgers downed the Reds 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader, although the second was postponed because of rain. The victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of three games from hard-hitting Cincinnati, a six-game winning skid and first place in the Western Division by half a game.

Bill Singer, suffering from flu,

tamed the Reds on five hits. Claude Osteen scattered six hits as the Dodgers won 9-0 Saturday evening and the Reds managed only seven hits in losing 4-2 Friday night.

Dodger pitching coach Dwight Adams said that Singer "really wasn't feeling well, a little weak because of the flu. He wanted to pitch, however, and I know sometimes when a pitcher loses something he has when he's full strength he does a better job. He pitches free and easy."

"He's certainly one of the better pitchers in the league," said Pete Rose, lead-off batter for Cincinnati which led the league in homers and team batting average. "It's still tough to shut this team out."

Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol commented that "These things run in cycles. We went up against good pitching just when our bats stopped. But we'll be all right."

The Dodgers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a triple by Maury Wills and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis.

Davis hit a run-scoring double in a three-run third inning and also scored a run. Tom Haller chipped in four hits in five at bats.

The Reds posed their biggest threat of the game in the first inning when Rose led off with a single and Bobby Tolan moved him to third with a one-out single. But then Tony Perez hit into a double play.

Susie Berning 1-Stroke Winner Of Pabst Classic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Susie Maxwell Berning headed south today to defend her U.S. Women's Open championship at Pensacola, Fla.

"I wish the Open was going to be played right here," she said Sunday after squeezing out a one-stroke victory in the $30,000 Pabst Classic.

It was her second LPGA triumph in three weeks and her second on the tour in seven starts. The 27-year-old California native who lives at Lake Tahoe, Nev., shot a final round 71 and finished with a 54-hole total of 211, five under par for the route.

Mrs. Berning, married only a year ago, started the day two strokes behind Shirley Englehorn but quickly made up the deficit with birdies on the fifth, sixth and eleventh holes.

South Tops North, 95-93, In Cage Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus East's Eddie Ratleff outshone the other stars in leading the South to a 95-93 victory in the 10th high school basketball classic Saturday night.
The 6-foot-6 Ratleff, who helped East capture the state Class AA state title last season, pumped in a game-high 30 points as the Rebels snapped the North's three-game win streak in the annual all-star contest.
But despite Ratleff's hot shooting from the field and outstanding support from Allan Hornyak of Bellaire St. Johns with 16 points, Willie Townsend of Hamilton Garfield with 15 and Nick Conner of East with 14, it was foul shots that provided the winning margin.
The South was 22 for 29 from the charity line, compared with the North's 13-20.
Hornyak, the state's leading scorer last season, and Townsend both had a perfect night from the free throw line, with 6-6 and 3-3, respectively.
The game was a nip-and-tuck battle all the way, with the lead changing hands numerous times. The Rebels had gained an 11-point lead with five minutes left to play, but the North roared back, finally tying it at 93.
Then, with 43 seconds left on the clock, Conner stole the ball and sank the winning goal.

Eddie Brinkman, whose two-run single broke a 4-4 tie in the opener, singled in the run that put the Senators ahead 2-1 in the

nightcap and then capped the nine-run outburst with a sacrifice fly.
Detroit hurlers Pat Dobson, Mike Kilkenny, Don McMahon and Tom Timmerman were the victims of the initial lightning blast, after Earl Wilson left for a pinch hitter. Starter Joe Sparma, Fred Lasher and Kilkenny again were roughed up in the second game before Daryl Patterson came on to work one scoreless inning preceding the rain.

Washington manager Ted Williams, who had an appetite for base hits during his own playing career, said a friend sent a big package of kielbasa (Polish sausage) to the Senator's dressing room before the doubleheader.

"What a diet, Kielbasa and base hits; it's great," Williams enthused. "We'll have to ask that guy to send more of that stuff around next time we visit town."
Manager Mayo Smith of the Tigers, who may develop a sore arm from waving to his bullpen, tried to be tactful.
"It was a pretty sad day," he said. "There was not much we could do about it. Our relief pitching was not as bad as it looked. We will come around all right."

Dodgers Smash Reds 5-0; 2nd Game Is Rained Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CINCINNATI (AP)—Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston had nothing to quibble about Sunday after his pitchers made Cincinnati's bats look anemic for the third straight game.
"I'll settle for that," the veteran pilot said after the Dodgers downed the Reds 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader, although the second was postponed because of rain. The victory gave the Dodgers a sweep of three games from hard-hitting Cincinnati, a six-game winning streak and first place in the Western Division by half a game.
Bill Singer, suffering from flu,

tamed the Reds on five hits. Claude Osteen scattered six hits as the Dodgers won 9-0 Saturday evening and the Reds managed only seven hits in losing 4-2 Friday night.
Dodger pitching coach Dwight Adams said that Singer "really wasn't feeling well, a little weak because of the flu. He wanted to pitch, however, and I know sometimes when a pitcher loses something he has when he's full strength he does a better job. He pitches free and easy."
"He's certainly one of the better pitchers in the league," said Pete Rose, lead-off batter for Cincinnati which led the league in homers and team batting average. "It's still tough to shut this team out."

Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol commented that "These things run in cycles. We went up against good pitching just when our bats stopped. But we'll be all right."
The Dodgers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a triple by Maury Wills and a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis.
Davis hit a run-scoring double in a three-run third inning and also scored a run. Tom Haller chipped in four hits in five at bats.
The Reds posed their biggest threat of the game in the first inning when Rose led off with a single and Bobby Tolan moved him to third with a one-out single. But then Tony Perez hit into a double play.

Hot Mets Defeat Cardinals, 5-1, 1-0

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
New Mets never die a well, hardly ever ... and a couple of old ones aren't exactly fading away.

Gary Gentry, New York's current pitching prodigy, and Jerry Koosman, its 1968 rookie sensation, hurled the torrid Mets to a 5-1, 1-0 doubleheader sweep over the struggling St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Tommie Agee, a second-year Met, and rookie Rod Gaspar also played key roles as the former expansion misfits delighted a Shea Stadium crowd of 55,862—largest in the National League this season—and climbed within 4½ games of Chicago's stumbling East Division leaders.

New York has won 13 of its last 23 starts—including three of four against the defending NL champs.

The Cubs, who had lost six of seven previous starts, beat Montreal 7-6 in the opener of a doubleheader with a four-run ninth inning rally capped by ex-Met Jim Hickman's two-run homer. The winning pitcher? Met castoff Dick Selma.

Montreal bounced back for a 5-4 victory in the nightcap, which was called after six innings because of darkness at light-less Wrigley Field.

Los Angeles blanked Cincinnati 5-0 (the second game of their scheduled twin bill was rained out) and took a one-half game lead in the West over Atlanta, which divided a pair with San Francisco, winning 7-5 after a 5-1 loss. Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 6-0 before bowing to the Phillies 3-2, and Houston downed San Diego 2-0.

Gentry, 7-5, spotted the Cardinals a run and two hits in the first inning, then stopped them cold until the ninth, when reliever Cal Koonce came on to get the last two outs, leaving two runners stranded.

Agee drove in a pair of runs as the Mets raked loser Steve Carlton and two successors for 13 singles—three each by Bud Harrelson, Cleon Jones and Jerry Grote.

Koosman scattered seven St. Louis hits and struck out nine in the nightcap on the way to his third shutout. The Mets clipped Mike Torrez for the game's only run in the seventh, when Harrelson tripled and Agee bounced a double over the head of third baseman Mike Shannon.

Left fielder Gaspar saved Koosman in the eighth with a bullet throw to the plate that nailed Lou Brock trying to score from second on Joe Torre's two-out single.

Koosman, 5-4, has a club record string of 23 consecutive scoreless innings and has yielded just four runs in 80 innings since coming off the disabled list May 24.

"We have the feeling now that nobody can beat us when we take the field; nobody can stand in our way," said the 25-year-old left-hander, a 17-game winner as a rookie but plagued by shoulder trouble early this year. Koosman left nine St. Louis runners on base in the nightcap. The Mets' Ron Swoboda had stranded as many teammates on the bases in the first game by striking out five straight times ... to tie a major league record.

'Careless Technology' Said Cause Of Costly Accidents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many of the costly airplane crashes, fires and other accidents that occur in this country can be blamed on careless technology, an Ohio State University engineering professor says.

And, Dr. Robert C. McMaster warned, government and private industry are flirting with a major disaster by failing to conscientiously test complex systems for weaknesses. "The situation is critical," said McMaster, past president of the American Society for Nondestructive Testing, a group of corporate leaders, engineers and researchers who seek new ways of testing equipment.

McMaster edited the Nondestructive Testing Handbook, which he says is used by many industrial engineers. Many accidents caused by technological failures have escaped public notice, McMaster said, but some of the more dramatic have been publicized. He cited as an example the November 1965 electrical blackout of the northeastern United States which was caused by the failure of a small relay. McMaster says such accidents could be avoided through development of a foolproof system of reliability tests of all potentially dangerous complexes — tests to check all components regularly for potential failures.

These tests, he said, currently include X-rays and use of dyes to discover hairline cracks and fractures.

Some new devices can detect a speck of dust one-thousandth of an inch in diameter, McMaster said, adding that a particle of this size is capable of causing an entire system's failure.

Aerospace, nuclear and government engineers have become more prevention-conscious in the last 15-20 years.

he said. But only recently have consumer industries — particularly the automobile industry — begun testing for equipment weaknesses.

Eastern Jet Is Hijacked To Havana

MIAMI (AP) — A Spanish-speaking man holding a knife and a bottle marked "explosives" hijacked a jetliner with 89 persons aboard to Cuba. His wife and teen-aged daughter were with him.

The Newark-to-Miami Eastern Airlines DC8 returned safely to Miami Sunday after spending several hours in Havana.

The hijacker and his family, who had been issued tickets under the names of "Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Perez," remained in the Cuban capital.

Second Officer David Savage said a bottle labeled "Danger: Explosives" was tied to the hijacker's wrist by a string.

"It looked like pink sugar and inside this was a test tube of what looked like methiolate, with wax on top of it," he said. "It probably was just a diversion, but you don't know what it is, of course."

Stewardess Rose Mary Evans of Atlanta said the man called to her and drew a knife.

"He couldn't speak English but he beckoned me to unlock the door," she said. "He didn't say anything."

The pilot, Capt. Bernard L. Hutain, said the incident occurred just south of Norfolk, Va., and the man in his 50s with a deeply lined face said "Havana, Havana." Hutain added, "I got the message."

The reason: inflammation of both front ankles.

The ankle trouble isn't serious, Longden said; "But enough to keep him out of action quite awhile—maybe the Santa Anita meeting." Racing begins there Dec. 26.

Rube Bjorkman, University of North Dakota hockey coach, was a member of the 1948 and 1952 U. S. Olympic hockey teams.

Veteran Bobby Ussery has led the jockeys in riding winners five times at Hialeah Park.

IN SAVANNAH — Circleville Girl Scout Cadette Troop 1176, troop leaders and accompanying adults are shown at the front steps of the Juliette Gordon Low Birthplace in Savannah, Ga. The property, now a National program center owned and operated by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., is also a museum of historic memorabilia of the Girl Scout's founder. The English Regency house was built for James Moore Wayne who became Associate Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court and sold the property to William Washington Gordon I, grandfather of Juliette Gordon Low, in 1831. Five generations of Gordons lived there. Pictured from the left are Patricia Robinson, Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, Mrs. Bess Moats, Mrs. Willis Flowers and scouts Barbara Bach, Marilyn Koch, Karal Carpenter, Denise McFadden, Sherry Davis, Vicki Bond, Penny Lowry, Patty Ankrom, Cindy Bond, Connie Flowers, Beverly Sowers, Jodi Moats and Joyce Spradlin.

Scouts Return From Trip To Founder's Birthplace

Girl Scout Cadette Troop 1176 have returned to Circleville from a trip to Savannah, Ga., which took two years in the planning. The girls worked to accumulate funds to pay for their trip to the birthplace of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting.

Cadette and Senior Girl Scout troops from all parts of the U.S.A. visit the birthplace of their Founder by advanced reservations only.

While there, they participate in a planned three-hour program, enjoying activities that were a part of the girlhood days of Juliette Gordon — always called Daisy — in the 1860s and 1870s, such as cutting silhouettes, viewing stereoscope views (that's television in Daisy Gordon's times!), learning the "language of the fan", and testing one of the favorite recipes Daisy herself cooked and enjoyed.

THE Juliette Gordon Low birthplace is owned and operated by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. since 1953. Visiting troops contribute handmade articles for sale in the Gift Shop. Proceeds go toward maintenance of the historical site. Circleville girls made liquid embroidery items and large paper flowers as their contribution to the Gift Shop and took two crocheted rugs to add to the birthplace collection.

The group, enthusiastic hometown supporters, distributed Pumpkin Show advertising along the route, which took them to other points of interest in Savannah, Davenport House, home of Historic Savannah Foundation; a tour of the city's historic section including the Telfair Art Museum; and a swim in the Atlantic Ocean at Savannah Beach.

The leaders of Cadette Troop 1176 are Mrs. Willis Flowers and Mrs. Daniel L. Bond. Other adults who accompanied the group were Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, Mrs. Bess Moats and Miss Patricia Robinson who has just completed her freshman year at OSU. Pat, a Girl Scout enthusiast, was the bus driver and received an especial thanks from parents of the girls who made the trip, for a difficult job well done.

Mrs. Flowers reported that slides are being developed and a daily log of the trip will be made into scrapbook form to be used as a program presentation to any interested local civic group. Half of any funds recognized from this presentation will be sent to The Juliette Gordon Low Birthplace to aid in the restoration and furnishing of two incomplete rooms of the national historic landmark.

The group trip was the result of two years of work and planning. Energetically, the 13 girls have made plans for their next trip which will be to Disneyland in 1973.

National . . .

Last Thursday Jack Maher, national coordinator of the organization, said controllers were enforcing air safety rules. In addition, he said, "we are telling our people if there is any indication that physically or mentally they are not able to do top-notch jobs, they should not go to work, call in sick, have everything they need taken care of. And if they were working, to try not to overextend themselves."

Friday, Maher said the membership was cautioned "to be aware of oversteering the safety committee recommendation which refers to getting incapacitated through illness and fatigue to the point where mental alertness is diminished."

On the same day, Shaffer said there "is recognized need for additional air traffic control staffing to meet the demands on the system."

Sunday the controllers sent a telegram of protest to Volpe, Shaffer, the airlines, the Airline Pilots Association, the Flight Safety Foundation and the National Transportation Safety Board.

"Reports continue that controllers are being removed from already critically understaffed positions, subjected to crude, unethical and exhausting harassment, then ordered back to controlling aircraft."

Intoxication Charges Head Court Docket

Two area residents were charged by Municipal Court with disturbing the peace by intoxication over the weekend.

Eugene Shaffer, 28, Amanda, pleaded not guilty to an intoxication charge, but was fined $10 and costs by Judge Sterling Lamb.

Kenneth Harris, 20, 601 Elm Ave., forfeited a bond of $24 on a similar charge.

Theresa Smith, 22, 740 S. Court St., forfeited a $19 bond on the charge of speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Billy Foreman, Ashville, forfeited a $24 bond on the charge of speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

The court collected $431 in bond forfeitures and court cases involving out of town motorists over the weekend.
